Deaf Heritage

Dr William Roe founded our school in 1893, because he wanted to improve the lives of deaf people, who were ill-treated and misunderstood by society at that time.

His wife Lydia was a pioneer in her own right, becoming the first woman qualified to teach deaf pupils in England.

At this time, the school was extremely progressive and today we encourage pupils to learn about RSDD's fine history and to be proud of its culture and heritage.

Anti-Bullying

Our school community will not tolerate bullying, including between adults, or adults and children and young people, or between children and young people. If you are being bullied, please tell your form teacher or tutor or fill in a form which you can post in a red box.
